

If the radio situation today is what TV will be like under the proposed regulations, we should not only oppose any increased media consolidation at all costs, but restore the diversity of radio as well.